

Understanding the Boundaries

Boundaries: something (as a line, point, or plane) that indicates or fixes a limit or extent. We would like to believe that the only boundary known to Christianity today is the one that is drawn between them that are within, and them that are without. But the reality of it all is that the greatest boundaries exist in the very midst of them that gather to worship God. An invisible line drawn between those who truly come by the endeavors of the spirit, and those who come to fulfill not only the satisfaction of their leaders, but their own fleshly desires as well. Within the church today is a layout that can easily be described with the structure of a cell's nucleus.

among men. From within this circle radiates a perfect desire to know, walk in, and fulfill the will of the Father.

These are they that have no moment of speculation when they are faced with the option of hearing God or obeying man. This is where you can find the latter day soldier of the cross, those who not only speak of faith but whose lives are poured out to the extent of self sacrifice. Getting back to our diagram, the Nucleoplasm, or Chromatin is a fluid area surrounding the inner fellowship as water surrounds an island. This is where you find the Secondary Fellowship, it's so easy to move about on dry land, but once in the water, not only is your mobility hindered, but you lose the ability to elevate above the height of the water.

Developing a sense of complacency with-in these zone can cause you to remain on the same level indefinitely. Not only un-elevated but subject to be tossed to and fro with the waves of every doctrine and carnal understanding that may come your way. These are those that know beyond the shadow of a doubt, that there is a great move of the spirit with-in their grasp, but they are only prepared to watch from the beach as others venture onto the island in search of the revelation of God's directive for today. Afraid to hear Him for them selves, they continue to lack the power of a personal relationship with the Father; satisfied just to be a part of something, when God has commissioned them to be the start of something greater. Many of them with-in this group fall prey to the elements of II Timothy 3.

The Nuclear Envelope serves as a dividing wall between the inner fellowships and that which remains. This is the great divide that draws a line of separation in front of them that are the Outer Gathering; the wolves in sheep's clothing, the enemies Trojans horses, and last but not least, them that we were warned of in 2nd Timothy 3. But wait, it gets even deeper. The next two component are the reason that many can stand in the midst of the Lords spirit and be blind to not only the enemies devices, but blind to the revelations of the spirit as well The purpose of the Inner Membrane serves to insulate and withhold the deepest of spirit driven wisdom and knowledge of God from reaching them that would hold the very grace of our Lord and Savior in utter lasciviousness; them that are of no more than a spiritual Hobo's intent, even to fulfilling the testament made in Titus 1:16. They are in ways unruly, headstrong and ambitious of power, refractory and intractable (as some render it), and such as would not bear nor submit themselves to the discipline and necessary order of God's church, impatient of good governing, and of sound doctrine. And vain talkers and deceivers, conceiting themselves to be wise, but really foolish, constantly falling into errors and mistakes, and fond of them even to the point of boasting; studious and industrious to draw others into the same.

The Outer Membrane serves the same purpose as the inner, accept that it is a reverse effect. Just as the veil in the temple, it keeps out all that would come into His presence with ulterior motive and intent. So how is it that those of the outer gathering can be a part of the fellowship? The pores in the nuclear envelope are the windows by which they become a part of what God is doing. Strangers not allowed in His unadulterated presence, but able to safely watch through a small hole without drawing too much attention or judgment upon themselves. Even occasionally drawing the attention of them within for the purpose of fulfilling assignments set forward by spirits of division and deceit. Now understand one thing, you cannot associate these lines with positions and offices in the church, Just as Christ proclaimed in Luke 13:30, many that seem to stand at the forefront, are in fact not the first; yes, many that lead this day, are in fact serving as a part of the Outer fellowship. These are lines of division that are only seen with-in the spirit. The only thing that you need to attempt in seeing today is where are you living, breathing, serving, and submitting within your own walk. Are you a part of them by whom the way of truth has been evil spoken of, or are you truly a Son Of God? If your personal feelings have not forced you to seek anything other than what God has to say, be sure to read next week's message.
